Online Journals

Many of the journals (periodicals or magazines) that GMIT Library subscribes to are currently available in online format over the Web.

For those journals with online availability, we have provided a direct link from the catalogue

Currently this Library has almost 450 current journal titles subscribed in print, of these over 370 have online availability.

Patrons can access a list of all the journals available online by clicking on the 'Library Collections' heading of the main menu of the Webpac (<http://library.gmit.ie>). This list will allow users to go directly to the online version via the catalogue record.

Types of Access

Library users viewing our journal titles online will experience different types of access depending on the title.

Some allow full archive searching of all back issues and give you full text articles, some will only give abstracts (summaries) or TOC's (tables of contents); while others may only have a selection of what's available in the printed version.

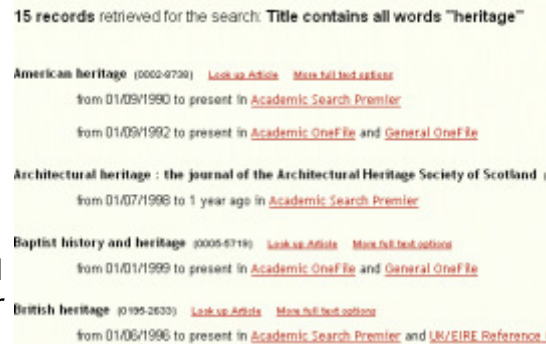

Certain titles require the user to be a subscriber to the print version and will insist on IP recognition or username and password access. If you are accessing from any computer in GMIT, the IP recognition should work, if the journal site is requesting a username and password please check with the Library.

Online Services

**New* * SEARCH OUR E-JOURNALS

Our E-Journals portal is the quickest way of finding full text journals that are available via our subscribed full text databases such as Academic Search Premier, Academic and General OneFile and Wilson Omnifile.

You can search the E-journal portal via the Webpac home page, and search for titles, keywords in title or ISSN.
