

Databases

The library databases are large online collections of journal articles and other documents on various subjects, which make it easy for you to find information.

Where can I find them?

Go to atu.ie/library to search databases.

Most of the library databases are searchable using the Search + Find box on the library website.

When you find the article or document you want, click on its title. This will bring you into the database where you can view or print the article.

You can also use the databases search button on the library website to go directly to a specific database.

Which databases should I search?

These are some of our most popular engineering databases. The ones marked with this symbol  are searchable using the Search + Find box on the library website. This means that you can search more than one database at a time.

IHS Markit

Full-text construction and engineering regulations, standards and guidance documents.

i2i Standards

Full-text IS, NSAI, EN and ISO standards

Academic Search Ultimate

Scholarly journal articles on engineering and technology.

Science Direct

Journal articles on engineering and technology.

Omnifile Fulltext Mega

Journal articles from a large number of engineering publications.

Emerald Archives

Journal articles, book chapters and case studies on engineering and management.

GreenFILE

Journal articles and book chapters on climate change, green building, energy, pollution and sustainable agriculture.

Irish Times Online

How do I find engineering information in the library?

- Use the library website to search for books, ebooks, journal articles, dvds, theses, exam papers and more. atu.ie/library
- When you find the book you want on the website you'll see its shelf number, this will help you find it in the library.
- For online items, like ebooks, simply click on the link to read it online or download.

You may be asked to login to view online items. Use your ATU email and password.

Engineering books...where are they?

You'll find books relevant to Engineering at these shelf numbers.

Journals

Journals, like magazines, are published on a regular basis. They contain articles written by experts in a particular field of study and are an excellent source of up-to-date information.

Find journals on the shelves...

We have a small collection of journals on the library shelves, but most of our journals are available online. You'll find printed journals on the current journal shelves (Ground Floor near the stairs). Go to atu.ie/library to search for journals and find their shelf number.

Find journals online...

The quickest way to find journal articles is online.

Go to atu.ie/library to search for online journal articles.

Theses

A thesis is a long essay on a particular subject. Theses written by ATU students up to 2016 are held at the Library Desk on the Ground Floor.

Since 2016 theses are available online at atu.ie/library

Exam papers

Go to atu.ie/library to view and print exam papers.
